

Warehouse Performance Improvement

Intelog is bringing world expert in Warehousing, Art Liebeskind, to Australia in May / June. Art is an excellent teacher and trainer in warehouse design and operations.

We are proposing that well led organisations take advantage of his time here to conduct training of their warehouse and operations management and team leaders in how to improve and optimise their operations. Art inspires operations people to take the training back to the workplace and start the improvements.

The training covers the primary warehouse considerations of:

- Use of available space
- Safe and efficient application of MHE
- Efficient stock layout and access
- Process and materials flow
- Application of WMS functionality
- Operations control and measurement

We are offering his services in half, one and two day in-house modules that are based on the attached program overviews but tailored to an organisations requirements and industry.

Where an organisation has multiple sites in each state then we suggest the program is run on a state basis with one or two key people from each site.

Prices

Half Day	$5,000 plus GST
Full Day	$8,000 plus GST
Two Days	$14,000 plus GST

The organisation is to provide the venue, preferable on-site, and attendee refreshments. Intelog will provide the workshop materials and Art will give each attendee a copy of his recent Warehouse Improvement book.

Available Dates

Art will be in Australia from the 26th May to the 6th of June. There are a number of organisations being approached and interested so our offer has to be on a first in basis.

Please contact Andrew Stewart or Bernie Kelly for further details and booking information.
